Introduction

The papers presented and summarized here were commissioned during 1996 and early 1997 from key organizations and individuals, with knowledge and in-depth experience in implementing sustainable development. These papers served as background information for discussion at the Rio+5 Forum and provided significant input for the first drafts of a number of alliances and action plans developed during and after the event. The summaries below were prepared by the Earth Council and include links to the full reports when available.
